Über Uns

The Student Chapter of SIAM Magdeburg is an association of students from the Otto von Guericke University Magdeburg and the Max Planck Institute in Magdeburg .

Our activities include:

- ▶ Exchange of information between university and industry in the form of lectures, excursions and workshops,
- ▶ scientific contributions to topic-oriented applications from industry and
- ▶ individual support for members.

Students who are interested in current research topics in applied or industrial mathematics are warmly welcome! Contact

"Hello applied mathematics students in Magdeburg!

Being a student member of SIAM is a free way to get book and conference discounts as well as other things like SIAM News, but I think the most important benefit is the intangible one - greater involvement with our exciting field of computational and applied mathematics."
